LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:
It sflords me great pleasure to call the attention of the public to Mme. Yale's Exceisior Hair Tonic, which is the first and only remedy known to chemistry which positively turns grey hair back to its original color without dye. It has gone on record that Mme. M. Yale—wonderful woman chemist—has made this most valuable of all chemical discoveries. Mme. Yale personally endorses its action and gives the public her solemn guarantee that it has been tested in every conceivable way and has proved itself to be the ONLY Hair Specific. IT STOPS HAIR FALLING immediately and creates a huxurious growth. Contains no injurious ingredient. Physicians and chemists invited to analyze it. It is not sticky or greasy; on the contrary, it makes the hair soft, youthful, fluffy, and keeps it in curl. For gentlemen and ladles with hair a little grey, strenked grey, entirely grey, and with bald heads, it is especially recommended. ADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

The Coming Week to Be Gay With Many Weddings.

Several Engagements Announced-Rengifo. Thiebaut Nuptials to Be Solemnized by Cardinal Martinelli -Movements of Washingtonians.

dings. Nothing but weddings has been announced for the week to come. Society has had cause within the past few days to regret the loss of two very fretty girls, who will no longer call Washington home. Immediately after the marriage of Miss Anne Ridge Early to Mr. Ronald Fairfax, the groom took his bride North for a short trip before re-turning to Roanoke, where they are to live in an old-time Virginia manor, just outside the town.

Miss Gladys Ffoulke, who became Mrs. Miss Gladys Flouke, who became also Edward Chapman Smith on Thursday, will live in Philadelphia, though the groom will take his bride for the winter to the far South, to remain until spring Mme, Rengifo, too, will give up her lifelong home here to reside abroad.

At the marriage of Mme. Rengifo and Mr. Eugene Thiebant next Tuesday, the ceremony will be solemnized by Cardinal Martinelli. Only members of the family and close relatives, together with the re-quired witnesses, will be present in the chapel of the apostolic delegation, where

On Tuesday also will occur the wedding of Miss Mary Souire Hinman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur F. Hinman, and Mr. Edgar Charles Gerwig, of Philadelphia, who is the private secretary of the Gov-ernor of Pennsylvania. The ceremony will take place at the Vermont Avenue Christian Church, at noon. Owing to re-cent death in the brides family there will

As usual, the majority of the weddings of the coming week will occur on Wed-nesday. At noon Miss Mabel Alerta Don-nelly and Mr. Edward Everett Jones will be married at Hamline Church; Miss Juliet Maud Duvall and Dr. Hanson T. A. Lemon at the Metropolitan Church at 7:30, and Miss Anetta Landon King and Mr. Henry Warren Freeman at St. Andrew's Church at 8. The marriage of William Carlisle Barr will take place at the Burrows home, 2720 N Street, at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, the ceremony to be simple owing to a death in the family of the bride.

The First Secretary of the French Em bassy and Mme, de Margerie returned to the city Friday from Manchester-by-the-Sen, and are now located in their new house, 1753 N Street.

Mr. Humphreys Owen, of the British Embassy, left Newporr yesterday for New York. Mr. Percy Wyndham, of the Embassy staff, returned to the city on

The Secretary of the Interior is making a short visit to his summer home at Monadnock, N. H. He will be accompanied back by his wife and daughters. The First Secretary of the Austrian Legation and Mrs. von Callenberg arrived in the city last night, and are now at their new home on H Street. Among the titled foreigners who are to visit Washington this winter will be Prince Glovanni del Drago. He is now a guest of the Marquise de Talleyrand-Perl-gord, at Chatsworth, N. J. Mrs. Jerome Bonaparte and her son, Mr.

Jerome N. Bonaparte, arrived at their Washington home yesterday, after a visit of several months to the Count and Countess de Moltke-Huitfeldt at their estate in Glorup, Denmark. Mr. Bonaparte is the third of that name to be known in this country and is the great-grandson of Jerome Bonaparte, the younger brother of Napoleon 1, who married in 1803 the beautiful Baltimorean Miss Elizabeth

Mrs. Levi P. Morton did not accompany her husband and two daughters, who arrived from Europe resterday. Mr. Morton and his daughters will spend the remainder of the au Hudson, where Mrs. Morton will join

Miss Helen Gould acted as bridesmaid at the wedding of her intimate friend, Miss Florence Bryant Fisher, and Mr. John C. Juhring, which occurred in the rose room of the Majestic Hotel, New York, last evening.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Cleberne, daughter of Rear Admiral Cleberne, retired, to Mr. Frederick McReynolds, of Cleveland,

Curran, Frd Kuppman John Hoffman, Edwin Post, P. Stadler, J. Hoffman and George Curran,

Miss Alice Hay, daughter of the Secre tery of State, has arrived at the family residence, on K Street. Mrs. and Miss Hay are risiting in Cloveland.

Miss Isabel Hagner has gone to New York for a few days.

Again comes the cabled announcement of the engagement of England's premier peer, the Duke of Norfolk, Earl Marshal of Great Britain, this time to Lady Alice Fitzwiiliam. As in all previous reports of the kind, the duke will probably make a the kind, the duke will probably make a prompt denial, and for a time the surprising sort of people who have nothing better to do than manufacture and float faise stories will kindly let him alone. People who know of his devotion to the memory of his handsome young wife, who died years ago, and of his ceaseless care of their afflicted son, resent as much as he does the romantic fibs that crop up now and then. In this instance of course, the tale may be true, but an American, who spent a few days with the brike of Norfolk at his oid castle in the early spring, said for him that he was the saddest man in all England. His only son and heir is deaf, dumb, and blind.

Major E. K. Webster, who has recently cturned with his wife and daughter from the Philippines, will soon go to Platts-surg Barracks, N. Y.

Miss Blanche Darby gave a progressive suchre party last night at her residence 1309 R Street. Among the players were Miss Mary MacNaughton, Miss Wilson, Miss Wallach, Miss Johnston, Mrs. Syd-enham, Miss Webster, Miss Anna Darby Mr. Sheng, and Mr. Chung, of the Chinese Legation; Major Green, U. S. A., Dr. Hamett, Dr. Wiley, and Mr. Norman Bes-ter.

General and Mrs. Gillespie have taker the house 1721 Rhode Island Avenue. Mrs. Gillespie is a most gracious hostess and will be a decided acquisition to Warhing-ton's social world.

By the way, it was the Duke of Norfolk who, as Earl Marshal of the United Kingdom, published in the "London Gazette," by order of King Edward, the proclamation ordering Albert Fairfax, of New York, to send on his address be-tween now and January in order that the King's summons may be forwarded commanding him, as a peer of the Scottish reaim, to attend the royal coronation in Westminster Abbey next summer.

Should Mr. Fairfax marry before the coronation his bride would be recognized by England as a peeressiof Scotland, and, like her husband she would wear a coronet and an ermine-lined Court robe of a pattern prescribed by royal law. Mr. Ronald Fairfax, of Romancke, Va., who married Miss Annie Ridge Early last week, is a cousin of Lord Fairfax.

Mr. E. Francis Riggs and family are

The Misses Peachy Tave closed their home at Woodley Lane, and are at $15 Sixteenth Street for the winter. Countees Quadt, wife of the Charge d'Affaires of the German Embassy, will probably not return to this country this winter.

Col, and Mrs. Henry May, of Washing-ton, are in New York for a month.

Mrs. Van Rensselaer Cruger is in Washington for the season. Her home will be at 2504 K Street. Mrs. James P. Ker-nochan, who spent much of last season in this city, will be in New York for a part of the winter.

Lieut, and Mrs. Louis M. Nulton have taken apartments at the Chapin.

The wedding of Miss Sally Cox and Mr. Charles Hume, whose engagement was announced during the week, will take place in January.

Gen. and Mrs. William A. Draper will shortly take possession of the former home of the late Mrs. Washington Mc-Lean, which General Draper bought some time ago.

A letter from London describing the states that the church was "a dream of flowers." These were all white save a screen of crimson roses near the door. Among the guests in notable gowns were Mrs. Ogden Goelet, who wore palest mauve crepe de chine and diamonds and pearls; the Duchess of Mariborough, who was in cornflower blue, the long skirt having gold thread lace; Consuelo, Duchess of Manchester, wore a long black velvet cloak, with a cluster of pink roses fastened in the laces in front, and pearls around her neck; Mrs. William Corcoran Eustis (Miss Edith Morton) was in white cloth, with mauve bands, and a black hat, and Mrs. Morton in sliver grey satin. Other guests present were Mr. Choate and Miss Choate, Mr. Henry White and Miss White, and Miss Pauline Astor. Among the guests in notable gowns were

Contrary to rumor, the Russian Ambas sador, Count Cassini, will return to Washington very shortly. As soon as he ar-rives, the Charge d'Affaires of the Embassy and Mrs. De Wollant will take a trip abroad. Mr. Zelenoy, the popular Second Secretary of the Embassy, was a recent guest at a house party in Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Birney have issued cards for the marriage reception of their daughter, Helen Conway, and Mr. Charles Raymond Gantz, Weinesday, November 6, 8 to 10 o'clock, at 1516 Twenty-second Street. At home cards for Saturdays in December 4 1816 McCulloh Street, Baltimore, are enclosed.

fendant Brought Before Him. Timothy White, his sister, Emma Staf-ford, and William Garland, were prisoners in the Police Court yesterday, charged with being vagrants. White is a blind man about thirty years of age. It was said he had been in Washington for more than a year, and had supported himself and the Stafford woman and Garland by White admitted being a beggar. He said that way, and also toke good care of his sister and Garland. The latter, he said, id the house work at their home on did the house work at their home on Brightwood Averte and he could not get along without him. The Stafford woman testified that Garland was a necessity in the house, because she was Milicied and could not do the work. He used to be a street preacher, she geclared, but he quit that business because he so often got robbed of his collections. The trio came to this city from Norfolk.

Miss Datsy Foster, an investigating agent for the Associated Charities, testified that she had looked into White's case. She knew he made a habit of begging on street cars, and that he supported the Stafford woman and Garland. Efforts had been made to induce him to go to the Home for the Blind, but he declared he could do better by beging.

Judge Kimbail then asked White whether he would not go to the Home for the Blind. He had no indination to do so, and all three defendants were sent to the workhouse for sixty days.

AN ESTATE LEFT TO THE WIFE. Francis Kenney's Will Bequenths Valuable Property.

Francis Kenney by his will, dated June 29, 1899, leaves all his personal property and his real estate, consisting of premi-ses 223 and 2230 Vermont Avenue, to his ses 225 and 226 Vermont Avenue, to his wife, Mary Kenney, For-life.

Upon her death it is directed that the estate shall be divided among his children, Kate McCambridge, John Francis Kenney, and his granddaughter, Mary M. Kenney. The latter's share is to be reserved by the executors of the will until she arrives at the age of eighteen years.

Little Boys', Misses', and Children's footwear on the third.

Stock room and mail order department on the fourth floor.

All reached by stairway or electric elevator-all elaborately furnished for the comfort and convenience of our patrons.

The women's waiting room is on the second floor. Easy chairs, divans, etc., are at your disposal at any time. Make this your meeting place and resting place while on your shopping tours. You are welcome at any time, and rest assured that you will not be importuned to buy.

But with all these conveniences even this shoe store would not be first to come to your mind when you think of exclusively stylish footwear did we not show a full and complete stock and variety.

How perfectly we are equipped to supply particular people with the correct fashions in footwear—those styles which are worn by New York's "elite"—is apparent at a glame.

There's no showing of evening, reception, wedding, and carriage footwear south of the metropolis which surpasses it—there's none in this city which nearly equals it—none which contains the really "correct" styles.

There's no showing of street and dress shoes, automobile shoes, shoes for nurses, etc., which approaches this. Every novelty is here, and the new things are shown as soon as evolved.

METHOD OF PROCEDURE LOOSE.

Comptroller Disallows Colonel Harries' Claim for Extra Pay. The claim of G. H. Harries for two months' extra pay as colonel of the First District of Columbia Infantry, appealed from the disallowance of the claim by the Auditor for the War Department, was decided yesterday by the Comptroller of the Treasury. The Auditor disallowed the claim because Colonel Harries falled to show that he was present for duty during the period for which he claimed extra remuneration. Avenue. L. H. Patterson, J. G. Durfey and I. J. Baker. The meeting adjourned to meet on the Jist Inst.

Howard Harvey and wife, of Baltimore, have been visitors at Wilton Harvey's residence, Langdon Heights, during the past week.

The entertainment in Langdon Heil Inst night for the benefit of St. Barnalass Episcopal Mission was a financial success. F. S. Hays had charge of the programme, which was highly enjoyable.

Miss ida Notestine, of Harrisburg, Palis visiting her cousin, L. H. Patterson, on Langdon Heights.

Frank Higdon, one of Langdon's enterprising merchants, has the sympathy of a large circle of friends in the death of his mether, in Alexandria, list week.

William Gochenhour, of the Agricultural Department, expects to be able to move into his new house, in North Langdon, next month. It will be supplied with water from L. J. Baker's spring near Mills Avenue. This decision is confirmed by the Comp-duty after having placed them on waiting orders have been recognized by this office as valid and binding upon those officers. It is claimed, on the authority of the opin-ion of the Judge Advocate General, in the ase of Captain Looker, that an officer not a duty status cannot issue orders which his subordinates are bound to obey; and that the recognition of the validity of his orders is a determination that he was himself in a status of duty.

"It is probably true, as a general rule, that an officer on waiting orders is relieved of his command and has not the full authority of his rank while not or duty. The position of these furloughed regiments, however, was exceptional. In general when an officer is relieved of-his-command he is succeeded by another, and the officer actually in command is the proper person to issue orders. When a regiment is furloughed in a body, there is no longer any necessity for a commanding officer in the full meaning of the term. Some one must be responsible for the Government property and for the performance of such work as may be required, but it is not necessary that the officer responsible should be setually on duty. It has been held that a temporary absence, not exceeding one month, did not deprive a company commander of the increased pay formerly allowed for responsibility for the arms and property of the company. "It is possible for a commanding officer subordinates are bound to obey; and sponsibility for the arms and property of the company.

"It is possible for a commanding officer to exercise some supervision over the af-fairs of his regiment during a furlough period without interfering with his civil pursuits, and in that case the exercise of such supervision would not seem to place him in a duty status. The power to as-sign additional officers to duty during the furlough period is incidental to the pow-or expressly given to make the original assignment before granting the furlough, and is really not-ing more than an assignment before granting the furlough, and is really not-ing more than an amendment of the previous orders. The authority whether express or implied, to issue orders of a certain kind, does not of itself place an officer in a duty status for all purposes. Neither the issuance of such orders nor the exercise of general supervision over the officers and men on duty is sufficient to place him in a duty status, though if he be properly assigned to duty, the performance of those duties might be regarded as a sufficient compliance with his assignment.

"As it does not appear that the claimant actually retained or placed himself on duty in accordance with General Order 130, or that he was assigned to duty by any superior authority. I am of the opinion that he is not entitled to extra pay.

"The action of the Auditor disallowing the claim is affirmed,"

Four carloads of New Upright Pianos arrived from the factory this week, and we haven't a place to show them. We must either rent additional warerooms or get rid of our stock of over 159 square pianos at once. Between the two alternatives we believe it would be cheaper for us to close out the squares at less than auction prices than go to the expense of fitting up new warerooms. We shall therefore offer the finest makes of squares at one-fourth and in some cases one-tenth of what they cost originally. This is a forced sale, and no reasonable offers will be refused. Every square piano in the house must go this week. We quote you only a dozen or so items, but there are 150 pianos in the sale, and they are all sacrificed like this:
